British Launch New Flanders Offensive

HAIG'S BIG GUNS AGAIN THUNDER IN YPRES SECTOR

Good Gains Reported for Allied Troops, Who Smash German Positions

ARGENTINA BREAKS WITH KAISER

Senate Takes Drastic Action and Press Approves;
War Seems Certain

(International News Service.)
London, Sept. 20.—Field Marshal Haig today renewed his great offensive on the West Flanders front, smashing numerous German positions. Following a bombardment of tremendous violence the British assaulted the German positions east of Ypres, carrying all of their objectives, the war office announced at noon.

The new British thrust comes upon the heels of a savage stroke against the German positions by the French on the Verdun front, where infantry fighting raged all day Wednesday.

If the Germans can be forced to retire all along the West Flanders front the German submarine base at Zeebrugge would be seriously menaced, as well as the German hold on Antwerp.

Comparative quiet now exists upon the eastern, Italian, Roumanian, Macedonian and Turkish battle fronts.

All along the battle line the British attacks are continuing with the utmost vigor. A number of prisoners have been captured. For weeks the German lines have been pounded with drum fire. It is believed that the stroke now under way will be the greatest yet undertaken and that Field Marshal Haig will endeavor to roll the Germans back all along the West Flanders front before bad weather can interfere with operations.

(International News Service.)
Buenos Aires, Sept. 20.—The action of the Argentine senate in voting to break off diplomatic relations with Germany today met with enthusiastic response throughout the entire republic.
Senators were praised by the press and it was predicted on every side that the chamber of deputies would take similar action.

STRIKERS DELAY LOADING VESSELS

(International News Service.)
New York, Sept. 20.—Federal intervention is anticipated today to settle the longshoremen's strike which is blocking the movement of many allied vessels and in which more than 6,000 workmen are participating. Striking workmen today declared their action has stopped the loading of 67 allied vessels.

(International News Service.)
ANOTHER STRIKE BREWS.
Chicago, Sept. 20.—Ten thousand Great Lakes seamen are voting today on a resolution to strike Oct. 1 if the Lake Carriers' Association does not agree to extend the provisions of the Atlantic agreement to the lakes.

BIG BOND BILL READY FOR ACTION

(International News Service.)
Washington, Sept. 20.—The senate this afternoon ratified the conference agreement on the $1,555,000,000 bond bill. The measure will be laid before the House tomorrow.

(International News Service.)
Washington, Sept. 20.—The conference on the $2,500,000,000 war revenue bill renewed their efforts today to adjust differences before the end of the week. Indications now are that the bill will not be disposed of before the middle of next week. It would not be surprising if the conference reported a partial disagreement and asked for new instructions.

Ever since the Luxburg revelations, showing that unneutral messages were being sent from this city to Berlin through the Swedish legation, anti-German feeling has been growing.

Just now this country is in the throes of a railway strike, but it was believed the government would make drastic efforts to re-establish normal transportation facilities should Argentine decide to cast her lot with the allies.

THUNDERING OF GUNS HEARD IN HOLLAND.

(International News Service.)
Amsterdam, Sept. 20.—Another great blow by Field Marshal Haig on the western front of Flanders is believed imminent. Violent artillery duels are raging around Ypres and so heavy is the gun fire at times that it can be heard in Holland 50 miles away. Military men believe that the German positions are being pounded in preparation for another infantry thrust.

(International News Service.)
Paris, Sept. 20.—Artillery duels all along the French front from the Oise river to the Vosges mountains were reported to the war office today. The big guns were particularly active in Champagne and on the Verdun front.

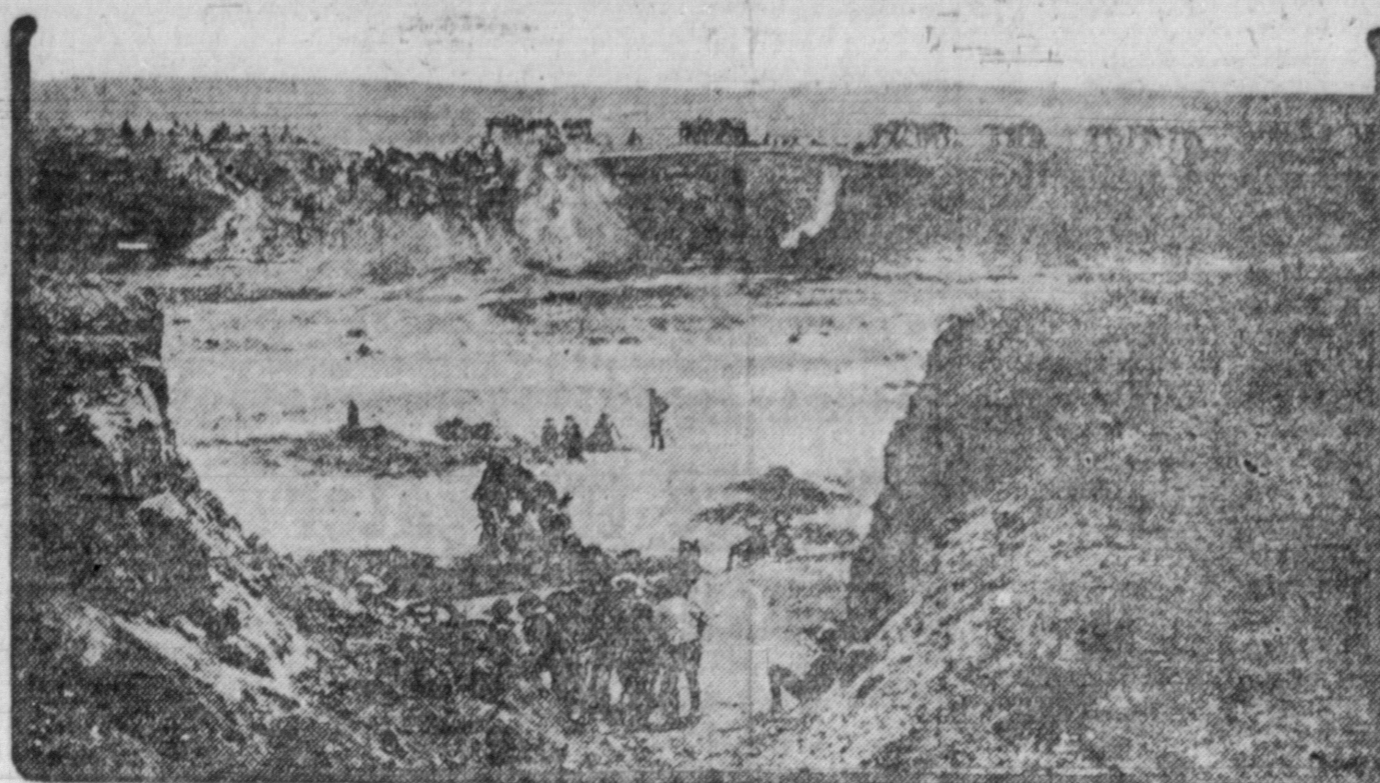

Home Guards, Attention!

You are hereby commanded to appear at the Armory tonight at 7:15 o'clock in full dress uniform.

DIFFICULT TRANSPORTATION IN PALESTINE

This picture gives a good idea of the tasks confronting the British engineers with the army in Palestine. Transportation is fraught with all sorts of obstacles, not the least of which are the desert gullies.

BOOSTERS JOURNEY $1,000,000 REWARD INTO LIMESTONE FOR KAISER BILL COUNTY TOMORROW DEAD OR ALIVE

WILL VISIT BELLE MINA, MOORESVILLE, TANNER AND HARRIS.

(International News Service.)
Moline, Kan., Sept. 20.—Twenty Moline men have pledged themselves to give $50 each as the first $1,000 towards a million dollar reward to be paid to the man of any nationality who will "get" the Kaiser. They believe that such a reward if the notices were properly scattered across German lines, might get results.

Owing to the fact that the ferry must be crossed, the Boosters will assemble tomorrow morning at 7:30 o'clock. For the round trip the Albany ferry has granted a one-way fare.

The Albany Boosters will remain at home today in order to complete arrangements for the big send-off to Morgan county's soldier boys, and tomorrow will make an excursion into Limestone county, visiting a number of prosperous communities. For the Limestone county trip fully twenty automobiles have lined up and this number may be increased.

Next Tuesday the Boosters will make a run to the Valhermosa section.

Town Creek Got Busy.
Following the cordial reception on yesterday of the Albany Boosters at Trinity, Hillsboro and Courtland it was at Town Creek that the director generals, Mayor E. C. Payne, B. L. Malone and their party had the liveliest "good fellowship" meeting of the week.

J. R. Armstrong, of Houston & Armstrong, of this thriving place, saw to it that the "folks" were there in goodly numbers and gave the Boosters a royal reception. Mr. Armstrong made a telling address of welcome and Capt. Samuel Blackwell, T. C. Almon and E. D. Whitman made rousing talks here.

McCulloch's Store was then made a good crowd awaited the coming of the Boosters and a pleasant exchange of courtesies was had at this place. Mayor Payne, B. L. Malone, W. H. Hall, J. H. Clifton, Jr., and W. R. Shelton making talks.

Caddo was the last point made in the day's itinerary, where the people vied in making it pleasant for their visitors. After addresses by Mayor Payne and B. L. Malone the run was made for Albany after a delightful and profitable day.

Veterans Along.
Major Chas. Bassett and Uncle Joe Robertson, each over 80 years old, made the trip and not only contributed to the day's success, but stood the rough riding over some bad roads better than many of those of lesser years.

HARD WINTER IS AHEAD OF EUROPE

(International News Service.)
London, Sept. 20.—With the United States tightening her embargo on the shipment of food to neutrals and a coal famine prevailing in many countries, every European nation, neutral as well as belligerent, today faces the hardest winter in its history.

The food shortage in the Scandinavian countries and Holland is growing acute and is leading to serious unrest. Switzerland, Italy, Austro-Hungary and France are in the grip of a fuel famine which threatens widespread misery.

Woman Fires on Officers; Four Persons Wounded

(International News Service.)
Birmingham, Sept. 20.—Mrs. J. W. Stout, a miner's wife, was fatally wounded, her grown daughter and small son slightly wounded, and Deputy Sheriff J. W. Alexander dangerously wounded in a general shooting at Besse Mines this morning.

Alexander and Constable Kenabrook went to the South home to serve some papers, and when they approached Mrs. Stout opened fire on the officers with a pistol. She had a baby in her arms and the constable hesitated to return the fire, but when the deputy was wounded he fired and the shooting became general.

Those who care to carry torches in tonight's parade can obtain them from Ernest Walker at his Second avenue store. All who have torches at home should bring them along.

Thousands of loyal Morgan county citizens are expected to take part tonight in the big parade and send-off to be given the selected men who go forth tomorrow morning in the defense of their country. With hundreds of school children, the Albany Home Guards, the Boy Scouts, the Business Women's Christian Association, the Red Cross and numerous fraternal and other organizations in line, the torch light parade promises to be the most spectacular and inspiring ever held in this section. They will pose for their photographs for the Daily official photographer, and will then be organized by the selection of a leader. They will be the guests of Uncle Sam from that time on, and those who do not live nearby will spend the night at some of the local hotels. Early tomorrow morning they entrain on a Southern special at the Decatur union station.

Maj. Chas. Bassett, a veteran of the union army and Albany's oldest citizen, was selected as grand marshal, and will be mounted on a fiery steed. His aides will be H. R. Thompson, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and Andrew G. Patterson.

The parade will move at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night from Johnston street and second avenue, the following line of march being observed: Down Second avenue from Johnston to Moulton, up Moulton to Sixth avenue, Sixth avenue to Jackson, Jackson to Fourth avenue, Fourth avenue to Johnston, Johnston to Second avenue, thence up Second avenue to the Y. M. C. A. building. Almost the entire length of Second avenue will be thus traversed.

War Has No Blighting Effect On Local Thirst For Knowledge

Long List of Young Men and Women Who Have Entered Institutions of Higher Education

War has apparently had little or no effect upon the desire for higher education in Morgan county. Despite the fact that in some localities war conditions have caused a noticeable falling off in the enrollment in the various colleges and universities, the Twin Cities will contribute a larger body of students to the higher institutions of learning this year than ever before. Especially is this true among the girls of Albany and Decatur, and outlying towns.
Albany and Decatur's quota of knowledge seekers, though always large, will be greatly increased this year. Some sixty boys and girls from the two towns will be matriculated in approximately thirty-five different educational institutions this year. The greater part of this student body, has already departed for the class room, and the remaining quota will leave within a few days. Below is a partial list of Decatur and Albany's college representatives, together with the schools they are attending:

VALESKA SURATT SURPASSES PAST TRIUMPHS IN "SHE" DELITE AND STAR FRIDAY
Valeska Suratt surpasses her many former triumphs in William Fox's spectacularization of Rider Haggard's famous novel, "She," the most elaborate photoplay ever released as a regular feature.
Miss Suratt plays the title role, Ayesha, "She-who-must-be-obeyed," a white queen of a savage tribe. She has attained immortality by basking in the fires of the Flame of Life.
Three thousand years ago Kallikrates, a young Egyptian priest, is killed by Ayesha when he refuses to abandon his young wife for her. His widow gives birth to a son, whom she charges to avenge his father's death.
This solemn duty is passed on from generation to generation. In the present era its fulfillment falls on Leo Vincey (Ben L. Taggart), a direct descendant of the priest.
Leo sets out for the mysterious land of She. On landing in Egypt he meets Ustana (Mariam Fouche), a native girl. She kisses him, thereby becoming his wife.
On entering the city with the girl Leo and his companions try to stop a cannibal feast. Leo is wounded, and his companion, Holly (Tom Burrough), is hailed before the queen. She is Ayesha.
Holly implores She to heal Leo's wound. She enters his cave and recognizes in him Kallikrates. Holly warns Leo the queen is She.
On recovering Leo goes to Ayesha to fulfill his vow. Ustana accompanies him. The queen strikes the girl down and declares her love to Leo. The youth cannot resist the woman. He falls at her feet.
She takes Leo to the cave of the Flame of Life, and as she bathes in the fire urges Leo to follow. As he watches Ayesha a resplendent beauty suffuses her stately form. Then her fairness begins to fade and her form to shrivel. She emerges from the flame a hideous ape.
Leo flees from the cavern and arrives Ustana, now recovering, from She's cave. On reaching the city he meets Billali (Wigney Percyval) She's chief adviser. He warns Leo to escape as the populace is aroused. He leaves the city and returns to civilization with his girl bride, his mission fulfilled.

Vacancies Now In The White Cavalry

Sergeant Ball of the local recruiting station is in receipt of instructions from Capt. Hutchinson at Birmingham to accept men for the white cavalry.
The following order has been issued:
To All Officers of the Recruiting Service:
In view of the fact that vacancies are reported in white cavalry regiments qualified applicants with or without prior service may be accepted for enlistment for white cavalry, general assignment, without special authority in each case from this office.
By order of the Adjutant General.
W. T. BATES, Adjutant General.

Enlistments at the Decatur recruiting office have slumped greatly in the past few days, according to a statement of Sergeant Ball this morning.

The Decatur office has established quite a record for enlistments in every branch of the army since last April.
There is also a big demand for colored men to fill up the deficit in the quartermasters' corps.
